Preserve Our Bees: Use Sustainable Beeswax

Koster Keunen is promoting global education on the significance of sustainable beeswax. Bee health, food production, and the changing climate impact us all. It is important to understand the regenerative nature of beeswax, the positive effects on smallholder farms, and their symbiotic relationships with bees and beekeepers.

The act of bee pollination is a key factor that keeps flora and fauna in balance. Healthy trees and plants prevent climate change, desertification, and soil erosion. Sustainable beekeeping helps preserve and support a biodiverse ecosystem.

Our Sustainable Beeswax focuses on our pillars of Social, Economic and Environmental preservation. In partnership, we train and improve the good practices of beekeepers. We are fully engaged in creating a positive impact on bees and beekeepers, starting in the flowers and fields of seven countries in West Africa.
